“ Lila could be counted on to talk to about anything. Her calm manner was comforting. It seems impossible she reached this stage so soon. However, Death Is Nothing At All

*Death is nothing at all.
It does not count.
I have only slipped away into the next room.
Nothing has happened.*

*Everything remains exactly as it was.
I am I, and you are you,
and the old life that we lived so fondly together is untouched,
unchanged.
Whatever we were to each other, that we are still.*

*Call me by the old familiar name.
Speak of me in the easy way which you always used.
Put no difference into your tone.
Wear no forced air of solemnity or sorrow.*

*Laugh as we always laughed at the little jokes that we enjoyed together.
Play, smile, think of me, pray for me.
Let my name be ever the household word that it always was.
Let it be spoken without an effort, without the ghost of a shadow upon it.*

*Life means all that it ever meant.
It is the same as it ever was.
There is absolute and unbroken continuity.
What is this death but a negligible accident?*

*Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight?
I am but waiting for you, for an interval,
somewhere very near,*

just round the corner.

All is well.

Nothing is hurt; nothing is lost.

One brief moment and all will be as it was before.

How we shall laugh at the trouble of parting when we meet again!

By Henry Scott-Holland

A speedy and easy journey home Lila. Our paths will meet again.

Pete, John and Barbie. you have my deepest sympathy on the loss of your beloved wife and mother. I was sorry to hear of her passing, but wanted to keep you all in my prayers. I could not send my condolences at the funeral home due to cataract surgery and implant on Monday, June 10th, but my thoughts were with you.
